THE "WHY'S" OF GUIDE-TESTING

For years, we routinely believed that we were obligated to produce a product that was in every way the best for the money. A product engineered soundly from the drawing board. Quality produced by trained, dedicated craftsmen. Tested first at the factory. Then "Guide Tested" by our Northwoods' guide panel. A boat we and our families enjoyed and had confidence in using.

We took all this for granted. Lived by this philosophy and built it into our everyday business. We believed it was the right way to do business. Our fine customers expressed satisfaction in their purchase of Lund Boats through the years.

We're continuing on an accelerated basis to build better boats, completely researched and tested. But we're not compromising a good product for the sake of change. We strive for value, soundness of design and quality. Our customers have said this is what they want and we will dedicate ourselves to work harder than ever toward this end.

All Lund American aluminum and fiberglass boats meet BIA specifications.
